while in the city for the mega ... we completed all the requirements for this multi. sadly there were some problems at the final, but with the owners permission ... we are logging the cache.
another great geotour (by the way) and gave us a really good excuse to poke around in our favourite city.
we did this with the gang on our last night here ... thanks.

We did this one with the group from atlantic Canada after our meal at St Patricks pub. We had a great time while in Quebec for Rendez-vous mega event. TFTC[:d]

Finally sent all the info and photos to the cache owner, and now have his permission to log- Many thanks for the history lesson and the adventure!! We'll be back!

Sorry about that guys ! There was a brand new cache waiting for you for the mega event but it seems that someone took it. I just came back from vacation and I have not read my mails since 2 weeks explaining my silence.

So, you can contact me with the final coordinates and/or pictures of the spot and I will give you the code.

Old Quebec City is tricky this year with all people around ! I like the cache holder and will try to use a smaller container next time. Please, be kind and thanks for your understanding of the situation.

EDITED 09 AUG 2008 AFTER CONSULTATION WITH CACHE OWNER

Thanks for the tour of some informative spots in Old Quebec. The hint item was very eye-catching too. Although we did not find the geocache container, the cache owner has confirmed that we searched the right spot, that the container has gone missing and has given us permission to log this one as "found".

BTW, our consolation prize was watching a very enjoyable "magic" show by Mr. Rene, in the little plaza at WP3. This was one of the day's highlights for our GeoKids.

Visiting Quebec City with Esiban, GreyingJay, opichi and JSDAFM, from Ottawa for the Rendezvous Quebec mega-event. We were really looking forward to finding this one, especially after all that work at the other waypoints (and yes, we were also distracted by some busking nearby -- but were very disappointed that there was no cache to be found at the final. We took lots of pictures, and were surely the subject of many curious (and suspicious?) muggles, but I just can't see where you would put a "regular" sized cache.
